5.4.1 There is a registered Alumni Association that contributes significantly to the development of the institution through financial and/or other support services

Response:

The college's alumni association is active. The alumni organization has been active in the college's advancement. The registration process has improved the relationship between the college and its graduates. The association's members are delegates from many fields.

The Alumni gather on a regular basis for meetings. During the meeting, topics pertaining to college development are covered. The most effective way to stay in touch with the graduates and former faculty members who are dispersed throughout the state is through social media.

The location of our college is in a rural area. As a result, the alumni's financial contribution is minimal. Nonetheless, the college receives non-financial contributions from the alumni association. The former students are now looked up to by the alumni. Numerous former college students are employed in the public, semi-public, and private sectors.

Due to their exceptional performance in the competitive exams, a number of alumni have been assigned to special positions in a range of government departments. In addition to being excellent role models for current students, alumni are frequently in a position to provide students with helpful advice as they launch their careers.

The college hosts alumni gatherings and solicits their opinions. The institute can improve teaching and learning thanks to these comments. Alumni meetings are held on a regular basis. They talked about how colleges have evolved.

The Alumni Association and its chapters have made significant contributions across various areas:

Financial and In-Kind Support:

The Alumni Association has provided substantial financial support through donations and fundraising initiatives, as well as in-kind contributions such as equipment, technology, and resources for campus improvements.

Donation of Books/Journals/Volumes:

Alumni have generously donated books, journals, and other educational materials to enrich the institution's library and academic resources, enhancing research and learning opportunities for students and faculty.

Students Placement:

The Alumni Association has facilitated career development opportunities for students by connecting them with alumni networks, organizing job fairs, and offering mentorship programs to support their transition into the workforce. Student Exchanges: Alumni involvement has facilitated student exchange programs, enabling students to gain international exposure, broaden their perspectives, and develop valuable cross cultural skills through immersive learning experiences abroad.

Institutional Endowments:

The Alumni Association has contributed to the institution's endowment fund, providing long-term financial support for scholarships, research grants, faculty development, and other institutional priorities, ensuring the sustainability and growth of the institution for future generations.
